Date: May 2006
Total Respondents:
203

1. Do you have a CAD standard in place?	#	%
Yes	163	80%
No	40	20%

2. Is your Standard based on the National CAD Standard?	#	%
Yes	56	28%
No	107	53%

3. How is your Standard published?	#	%
Everyone gets a hard copy	46	23%
It is posted on our intranet	31	15%
It is e-mailed to all users	0	0%
It is not published	0	0%

4. How often is your Standard reviewed and revised?	#	%
Every 3-6 months	43	21%
Once a year	45	22%
When we migrate to a new software release	43	21%
Never	32	16%

5. Please indicate your level of agreement or disagreement with the following statements.	#	%
a. All of my users have read the Standard
Strongly Agree	22	11%
Agree	72	35%
Disagree	58	29%
Strongly Disagree	11	5%
b. All of my users are using the Standard.
Strongly Agree	14	7%
Agree	69	34%
Disagree	66	33%
Strongly Disagree	14	7%
c. My users couldn't care less about the Standard
Strongly Agree	10	5%
Agree	59	29%
Disagree	73	36%
Strongly Disagree	21	10%
d. Our Standard is so bad it cannot be followed.
Strongly Agree	4	2%
Agree	23	11%
Disagree	66	33%
Strongly Disagree	70	34%
e. My firm has a really good Standard.
Strongly Agree	24	12%
Agree	86	42%
Disagree	40	20%
Strongly Disagree	9	4%

AUGI Survey

6. Do you have training classes geared specifically to using the CAD Standards?	#	%
Yes	48	24%
No	115	57%

7. Who enforces the CAD Standard?	#	%
Upper management	14	7%
CAD management	77	38%
The users	37	18%
Nobody	35	17%

8. What percentage of your work is done using your own Standard as opposed to one provided to you by clients?	#	%
0-10%	6	3%
11-25%	5	2%
26-50%	16	8%
51-75%	19	9%
76-99%	64	32%
100%	51	25%

9. How often do you use the CAD Manager tools inside of Autodesk products to check your files for standards compliance?	#	%
Never	94	46%
Seldom	34	17%
Sometimes	22	11%
Often	9	4%
Always	4	2%